Volunteer Shout Out Dedication of Former KOI Skater is Amazing

Lia Cattaneo sorts through skates to help us prepare for coming season.

Long ago Lia Cattaneo stepped on the ice at Fort Dupont for the first time as a student of Kids On Ice. Fast forward more than a decade and you will find Lia has returned to FDIA as a regular volunteer and supporter of our programs. A recent graduate of UVA, Lia has accepted a position with the Department of Transportation here in DC. The week before starting her new job she spent 5 days here sorting and organizing our loaner figure skates and costumes. She also provided moving testimony on behalf of the rink during the recent District Budget hearings in an effort to have the City fund our new rink project. Lia plans to return as a KOI instructor at the rink in September. Thanks so much Lia, your dedication is much appreciated.

Lia Cattaneo surprised Rink Director Ty Newberry with a visit in Israel last summer.

Washington Capitals Player's Wives and Fans Volunteer

For the seventh consecutive year more than 100 Capitals fans, along with several player's wives, a few Red Rockers, Caps mascot Slapshot, and Head Coach Barry Trotz turned out for an awesome day of volunteer service at Fort Dupont Ice Arena. Special thanks to Monumental Sports Foundation for coordinating the event. We so appreciate all the help painting, cleaning, repairing and inspecting equipment, landscaping and so much more. Thanks for your help!
